

AceTech Ontario Announces the Winners of the 2014 Leadership Initiative Awards

Toronto, Ontario – January 13, 2013: AceTech Ontario is pleased to announce the winners of the 2014 Leadership Initiative Awards. The AceTech Ontario Leadership Awards is a program that taps into the knowledge and experience of Ontario’s best and brightest technology CEOs. This year AceTech Ontario is recognizing the following technology CEOs and their organizations for their best-of-class processes in the specified topic:

Naren Arulrajah	Ekwa Marketing	Building a large, best-in-class company where every person works from home
Niraj Bhargava	The New Energy Group (NEG)	Partnering with the big guys: Leveraging the might while not losing flight
Mark Jaine	Intellex	Organic Growth from $0 to Tens of Millions
Krista LaRiviere	gShift Labs	Using Web Presence Analytics to enhance your brand content, measure performance and focus your marketing dollars
David Lloyd	Intelliresponse	"Innovate like Apple". Real research in a small tech company
Chris Rasmussen	Doxim	Retention and Renewal: Create better experiences to retain clients and grow your business

“The Leadership Initiative Awards were established to recognize the innovative ways our companies are working,” says Jo Ann Dizy, Executive Director, AceTech Ontario. “We are thrilled to have such a wonderful group of winners this year and congratulate them on their achievements.”

Winners of the Leadership Initiative commit to providing a workshop for the AceTech Ontario members as well as an article, white paper, or business tool on their topic. This program will increase the volume and quality of peer to peer knowledge transfer, and will provide a structured approach for generating content and value for the AceTech members. Winners will receive their Awards during a special ceremony that takes place at the end of the year

About the Leadership Initiative Awards

The purpose of the AceTech Ontario Leadership Initiative is to tap into the vast knowledge and experience of the CEO members. This program recognizes the expertise and Thought Leadership of the members and provides a structure to allow more effective sharing of the knowledge already within the membership.
